3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Amazing life, amazing writer. By Judy Amazing life and a fabulous writer! This is the fourth of Charlie Foster's books that I have read. Having met him personally, I can attest to how unassuming he is, and what a grand personality he has. He knows everyone, famous or otherwise, and treats everyone the same. He is gifted, and has inspired many of my young drama students to aspire to careers in theatre. Of all the stories that Charlie has told me I would have to say that hearing about his friendship with Agatha Christie awed me the most. This is a great book; yes, this charming man with such a storied life really does live in New Brunswick!

Imagine receiving a mysterious invitation from Charlie Chaplin, doing jigsaw puzzles with Marilyn Monroe, having a heart-to-heart with Jack Kennedy, or being kissed by Greta Garbo. All of these and more are the sensational memories of UK-born, honorary Maritimer Charles Foster. After an unlikely childhood, his adventurous spirit brought him in 1943 to RAF pilot training school in Calgary. Through a series of incredible circumstances and fortunate friendships, Foster went on to become a Hollywood writer and publicist. Now writing from New Brunswick as a regular columnist for Senior's Advocate, Foster shares his most tantalizing stories as a collection for the first time. With tales from the golden age of film, radio, theatre, and music, including international adventures from Moscow to Berlin and beyond, From Old Hollywood to New Brunswick shows just how far an RAF uniform, a little bit of luck, and whole lot of charm could take you in mid-twentieth century show business. Includes a 20-page insert of original photographs.
