bought the book hoping to find savings on things that are done daily. You know those daily purchases that little by little drain hundreds of bucks. Unfortunately I was disappointed. It does talk about the large issue things like home insulation. Green car purchases etc. If you haven't been able to figure out the large purchases that save you money well this book is for you. But I found that I spend twice as much on the long run in the small purchases that I do little by little, day in and day out and I didn't find much. The authors' books aren't bad but this one I believe was created to join the fad. David of 0 people found the following review helpful. Some Great Tips!! By Michelle Cornish Great practical tips on saving money and going green at the same time! David Bach is one of my favorites!! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. This book will change the way how you live By hana Great book !! Made me do a lot of changes in my household that will help me save a lot of money. For example: I have a compost I am cancelling our garbage pickup $255 a year taking shorter showers replacing light bulbs.. and more. Everybody should read it and change the way how we live.

Let David Bach show you a whole new way to prosper by going green Internationally renowned financial expert and bestselling author David Bach has always urged readers to put their financial lives in line with their values. But what if your values are a cleaner and greener earth? Most people think that "going green" is an expensive choice they can't afford. Bach is here to say that you can have both: a life in line with your green values and a million dollars in the bank. Go Green, Live Rich outlines fifty ways to make your life, your home, your shopping, and your finances greener and get rich trying. From driving the right car to making your home energy smart, Bach offers ways to improve the environment while you spend less, save more, earn more, and pay fewer taxes. Best of all, he shows you exactly how to take advantage of the "green wave" in personal finance without the difficult work of evaluating individual stocks. What's more, he will get you thinking about a green business of your own so you can help the world along as it is changing for the better. David Bach is on a mission to teach the world that you can live a great life by living a green life. With Go Green, Live Rich, you can live in line with your eco-values on the road to financial freedom.

From Publishers Weekly Bach (The Automatic Millionaire; Start Late, Finish Rich) offers a multitude of suggestions for conserving the planet and your money in this attractive and accessible guide. A few of Bach's tips require making a serious commitment (growing your own vegetables, using recyclable energy, trading in your car for a fuel-efficient model); others such as unplugging unused appliances, switching to compact fluorescent bulbs and eating less meat are simple and familiar ways to go green. Bach also advocates making environmental consciousness a family value (spending more family time in nature, taking volunteer vacations), greening holidays by using recycled wrapping paper, sending e-cards and tree-cycling. Bach clarifies how the most conservative changes in lifestyle can yield radical results: If every U.S. computer and monitor were turned off at night, the nation could shut eight large power stations and avoid emitting 7 million tons of CO2 every year. In the Finish Rich section, Bach turns his attention from going green to getting green; investing the money you save in eco-friendly businesses. A winning and wise guide, this book printed on recycled paper with proceeds going to a green advocacy group will find a large audience. (Apr.) Praise for Go Green, Live Rich "Great news: there is no green premium! By demonstrating how going green can fit any budget, David Bach shows that good environmental and financial decisions go hand-in-hand. Bach's Go Green, Live Rich gives great tips, useful to everyone, about how to save money and the planet at once." - Robert F. Kennedy Jr. "Yet another powerful reason to go green! Thankfully for our species, going green can also mean saving some green. Go Green, Live Rich shows you exactly how a lot of small steps added together can change your life in more ways than one." - Graham Hill, TreeHugger.com and PlanetGreen.com "I LOVE IT. LOVE IT. LOVE IT. This is just what the world needs. Not a bunch of touchy feely, mumbo jumbo, but real world solutions that show why going green is just plain smart. Fantastic." - Steve Fleischli, President, Waterkeeper Alliance "David Bach has done it again! As a green affordable housing developer, I enthusiastically recommend Go Green, Live Rich! Packed with tips and tools, this book is a must read for anyone who wants to make their home--and their life--more eco-friendly." - Josh Lockwood, Executive Director, Habitat for Humanity "Go Green, Live Rich is as much about saving money as it is about preserving our world of natural wonders for future generations. This is the rich-green-book of a promising tomorrow." - Matthew Modine, Founder: Bicycle for a Day "Go Green, Live Rich is the ultimate toolkit for greening the planet and our wallets at the same time. No one does a better job than David Bach in showing us the practical strategies for how to enjoy living sustainably." - Terry Tamminen, Cullman Senior Fellow...
