From Palgrave Macmillan : The Globalization of Higher Education before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Globalization of Higher Education:

A volume of specially commissioned papers which draws on the diverse expertise of academic researchers, policy makers and educational practitioners to address the changing patterns of competition and provision, in international higher education. Topics addressed range from policy, provision, teaching, research and business engagement.

About the Author CHRISTINE ENNEW is Professor of Marketing and Pro Vice Chancellor at the University of Nottingham, UK where she has responsibility for the institution's pioneering internationalisation strategy. She has extensive experience of international higher education including an active role in the launch of the University of Nottingham Malaysia Campus. DAVID GREENAWAY is Vice-Chancellor of The University of Nottingham, UK, and an economist, whose expertise lies in international trade and cross-border investment. He has published more than 150 scientific papers in international peer reviewed journals; has authored, co-authored or edited 40 books; and is currently Managing Editor of The World Economy.
